Location—Grants—Proprietors—Incorporation

The town of Turner lies on the west bank of the Androscoggin river, in about 44 degrees 15 minutes north latitude. It is bounded, southerly, by the city of Auburn and the town of Minot, five and one-half miles westerly, by Hebron, Buckfield and Hartford, ten miles and one hundred and eighty rods; northerly, by Livermore, three miles and two hundred and fifty rods; easterly by the Androscoggin river. Leeds and Greene, are adjoining towns on the right bank of the river. It originally constituted a part of Cumberland county, was afterwards embraced in Oxford county, but in 1842 it became a part of Androscoggin county, which was at that time created out of several adjoining counties. The township was originally granted to the heirs and assigns of Captain Joseph Sylvester and his company, for millitary services rendered in the invasion of Canada under Sir William Phipps, in 1690. Mr. Dean in his history of Scituate, gives this account of the Sylvester family: Richard Sylvester, the father of Captain Joseph, lived in Weymouth in 1633, where he acquired an unfortunate notoriety by espousing certain religious opinions too liberal for the age in which he lived.

Mr. Robert Lenthal, his minister at Weymouth, advanced the sentiment that all baptized persons should be admitted to the communion without further trial. This was a heresy, to be noticed by the Government and he was ordered to retract in presence of the General Court, with which order he complied. But Richard Sylvester, who held the same sentiments, still adhered to his own opinion, and in consequence of so doing, was fined and disfranchised by the Government. This put him upon removing from the colony, and he came to Scituate in 1642. Joseph, who was his third son, settled also in Scituate, and had a farm on Church Hill in 1664.

Joseph Sylvester of Cumberland county, Maine, married Lucy Wade in 1788. He lived at a place called Prout's Gore. Joseph commanded a company under the famous Colonel Church, in his eastern expedition against the Indians in 1689. The next year he raised a company, sixteen of which belonged to Scituate, and many of whom never returned, and joined in the enterprise undertaken by Sir William Phipps against the French possessions of Port Royal and Quebec. In this campaign, Israel Chitteden was his lieutenant, and John Stetson, ensign. This enterprise proved disastrous and fatal to the brave Captain Sylvester and many of his men.

The historian, before quoted, says of them; Many noncupative wills were entered, and proved in the probate Court, Plymouth County, and among the number was that of Captain Sylvester himself. This will was proved by the testimony of three of his soldiers, Benjamin Stetson, John Perry, and William Perry, and reads thus: I give all my land at Hugh's Cross to my son Joseph; the three younger sons to be provided for by their mother, out of my other property, wife Mary to be executrix. The Records show also that Timothy Rogers was appointed to administer on the estate of Nathaniel Parker, who joined the Canada expedition of 1690.

The widow Mary was appointed administratrix on the estate of her husband, Ensign John Stetson. Eliab Turner was appointed administrator on the estate of his brother Lazarus Turner, who died in the same service. Moses Simons, in his will says: Being bound to Canada as a soldier, in 1690, in case he shall never return, orders his property to be equally divided between his brothers; this brother John to be executor. He did not return, and his will was duly executed. Samuel Bryant fell in the same expedition, and an inventory of his property was taken by William Perry and Samuel Stetson. Samuel Dwelly died also in this expedition, and an inventory of his property was taken by Jeremiah Hatch and Thomas Hyland. His father was administrator. Robert Sprout was another that did not return. These few names are rescued from oblivion. Mindful of this service, the General Court of Massachusetts granted a township of land to the heirs and assigns of Capt Sylvester and his company, situated, as supposed, in the province of Maine; but on runing the line between Maine and New Hampshire, the township was found to be in the latter State. A petition was then presented by the parties interested, to the General Court for another township, on which action was taken as follows;—

Province of Massachusetts Bay,

In the House of Representatives, June 25, 1765.

On the petition of James Warren and Joseph Joslyn, Esqrs. and Mr. Charles Turner, Agents for the proprietors of a township granted to Capt. Joseph Sylvester and company who served in the expedition against Canada in 1690, which township was known by the name of Sylvester-Canada, and that the whole of said township, on running the lines between this Province and New Hampshire, fell with the government of New Hampshire. Resolved, that in lieu thereof there be granted to the petitioners and the legal representatives or assigns of the said Joseph Sylvester and Company, a township of the contents of seven miles square in the unappropriated land belonging to this Province. Provided that the Grantees within six years settle thirty families in said town, build a house for public worship and settle a learned Protestant minister, and lay out one sixty-fourth part of said town for the use of the first settled minister, and one sixty-fourth part for the ministry, and one other sixty-fourth part for a Grammar School, and one sixty-fourth part for the use of Harvard College.

Provided, also, the said township be laid out in such parts of the unappropriated lands belonging to this Province adjoining to some former grants to the eastward of Saco river, and they return a plan thereof into the secretary's office within twelve months from this day, for confirmation.

In Council, June 25, 1765.

Read and concurred. Consented to by the Governor.

True copy attest from the records of the General Court. Vol 20, page 71.

JOHN AVERY, Jr., Secretary.

The number of the original proprietors was sixty, and the names were as follows: Joseph Atkison, Samuel Bryant, Robert Buck, Nathaniel Bartlett, John Delano, Samuel Dwelly, Samuel Doughty, William Eaton, John Field, Eleazar Jackson, John Joyce, Cornelius Jones, John Kent, Joseph Knapp, John Kingman, John Lambert, Arthur Low, Mark Lothrop, Edward Smith, Thomas Snell, Thomas Soper, John Sylvester, Benjamin Sutten, Joseph Studley, Mathew Stetson, Samuel Sprague, Joseph Shelley, Benjamin Gannett, Paul Guilford, James Glass, Joseph Gould, Samuel Hunt, James Howard, Thomas Hiland, Isaac Hanmer, James Harris, Nathaniel Harlow, Nathaniel Holmes, Gershom Marble, Thomas Morton, Samuel Pittifer, Joseph Prior, Robert Phiney, Nathaniel Parker, Elnathan Palmer, Peter Roach, John Records, Capt. Joseph Sylvester, Edward Stanley, James Snow, Moses Simmons, John Stetson, Stephen Totman, Lazarus Turner, Thomas Wild, Jabez Warren, Return Waite, Ebenezer White, Benony Wolly, John Wetherel. The proprietors selected and located the township granted them by the General Court, and returned a plan thereof, as required. The township, as located, was confirmed to them by the following act:

An Act to incorporate the Plantation called Sylvester, into a town by the name of Turner.

Whereas it appears to this Court that it would be productive of the public good and for the benefit of the inhabitants and proprietors of the said plantation, that the same should be incorporated into a town:

Sect. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in the General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, that the plantation called Sylvester, and included within the boundaries described by this Act., together with the inhabitants thereof, be, and hereby are, incorporated into a town by the name of Turner. (Here follow the boundaries contained in the original grant to the proprietors,) and the said town is hereby vested with all the powers, rights, and immunities which towns within this commonwealth are entitled to, or by law do enjoy.

Sect. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid that Isaac Parsons, Esq., of New Gloucester, be, and he hereby is empowered to issue his warrant to some principal inhabitant of said town, requiring him to warn the inhabitants thereof to meet as he shall therein set forth, to choose all such officers as towns are required by law to choose in the months of March or April annually.

Early Settlement

The early settlement of Turner is a story of the pioneer in the struggle with nature as is the case in other towns of the rugged Pine Tree State. The proprietors were troubled somewhat to secure settlers upon this tract of land, but finally succeeded in the year 1772 to induce Daniel Staples, Thomas Records, Joseph Leavitt and Abner Phillips to begin to fall trees with a view to settlement. With the forest thus broken the encouraging of settlers was much easier.

We give herewith the names of the principal settlers, the dates of settlement and the lots taken:

Military Matters

The town of Turner is justly proud of her military record. It follows in brief.

TURNER IN THE WAR OF THE REVOLUTION

Col. William Turner, aide to General Washington Elijah Dresser; in Battles of Bunker Hill and Stillwater; Peleg Wadsworth, brigadier general of Massachusetts Militia; Samuel Blake, Mark Andrews, Moses Merrill, Levi Merrill, Malachi Waterman, Richard Phillips, Abner Phillips, Joseph Merrill, served in defence of Boston in 1775; Luther Cary, Joseph Wardwell, Jasial Smith, Laban Smith, James Lara, Bennett Pompilly, Nathaniel Sawtelle, Richard Hine, Benjamin Conant, Paul Lowell, Joshua Davis, Moses Snell, Simon Caswell, in the Continental army; Benjamin Jones, John Keene, John Keene, Jr., Asa Battles, Nathaniel Shaw, Daniel French, Jairus Phillips, Nathan Richmond, Benjamin Merrill, William Hayford, Job Randall, Solomon Millett, Ephraim Andrews, Benjamin Alden, William Putman, John Allen, Thomas Atherton, Benjamin Chamberlain, Wait Bradford, Isaac Phillips, Ichabod Phillips, in the Massachusetts militia; Joseph Ludden, in the Boston Tea Party and in the Continental army; Jesse Bradford on guard of Burgoyne's captured army, 1777; Abner Thayer on Castle William in Boston Harbor; Elijah Fisher, member of General Washington's life-guard; Abial Turner, scales-man in Commissary department; John Bailey, last three years service; Daniel Pratt in Rhode Island State troops; Cornelius Jones, Massachusetts State troops and seaman; Andrew Bass, fell in the battle of Stillwater, 1777; James Allen, musician in Massachusetts line; Jacob Gardiner, during the war; Nathaniel Marston, in the New Hampshire line.

THE WAR OF 1812

In this war the following citizens of the town volunteered, and served on the Canada frontier one year or more. Capt. Stephen Turner, Isaac Allen, James Allen, James Allen Jr., Jacob Merrill, William Lombard, Theodocius Merrill, Peter Lombard, John Bailey, Charles Staples, Josiah Keen, Israel Smith, Jacob Keen and Barnet Pumpilly. Captain Turner was killed at the battle of Bridgewater, and Theodocius Merrill died in the army. The coast engaged the attention of the Maine to a greater degree than did any other phase of this conflict. The state militia was called into service, and Turner was represented in that branch by two companies of infantry commanded by Captains Seth Staples and Aaron Soule, and also a company of artillery commanded by Capt. Leonard Richmond. These troops were called to the defense of Portland.

AROOSTOOK WAR

Probably no contest of the international nature so thoroughly aroused the people of Turner and in fact the whole state of Maine as did the "Bloodless Aroostook War" of 1840. This promised at one time to be a very serious quarrel and the people of Maine were greatly exercised over the danger of having the war scene on their own territory. But they were far more concerned over the proposed steal of territory of the northeastern portion of the state by Great Britian through her New Brunswick subjects and so called upon the Washington authorities to demand justice of Great Britian. Washington officials were not ready to take hasty action and so the matter dragged along much to the dissatisfaction of Maine. The State thereupon took matters in its own hands and raised money and troops to defend the border. The matter was settled by the Webster-Ashburton Treaty in 1842.

Educational Account

The town of Turner has ever been the firm friend of education, esteeming it one of the bulwarks of the liberties we cherish so fondly. From the very first effort was made to promote its principles in this community. In accordance with the time honored custom of the General Court of Massachusetts, the proprietors of Sylvester Town (Turner) were required by the act which secured to them the township, to set apart the following lands for the different purposes enumerated; one sixty-fourth part of the township for the support of a learned Protestant minister; one sixty-fourth part for the support of schools in town; one sixty-fourth part for the benefit of Harvard College. The problem of handling the ministerial lands was less complicated than was the one of handling the school lands. The settled minister for a number of years cultivated the ministerial lands and thus secured a portion of his salary. But the school lands were for many years unproductive of revenue. It was proposed to sell the lands and with the proceeds establish a permanent fund. The ministerial lands were also to be included in this sale and the proceeds of that sale to be applied for the support of public worship. The petition was granted in the form of an act of the General Court, passed in the year 1803, entitled: An Act to authorize the raising of a fund for the support of the ministry, and a Grammer school in the town of Turner in the County of Cumberland.

This Act provided that a board of trustees should be chosen to sell the lands and receive the proceeds, and also to have the same in charge for the purposes above enumerated. By the provisions of the Act, Ichabod Bonney, Esq., William Bradford, Benjamin Evans, John Turner, Esq., Daniel Cary, Luther Cary and John Loring were constituted the Board of Trustees, with power to fill any and all vacancies, maintaining the committee of not more than seven members and not less than five.

At a meeting of the trustees holden at the house of Ichabod Bonney, Esq., on March 15, 1803, the board organized with Luther Cary, Esq., president; Benjamin Evans, clerk; John Turner, treasurer. A committee was appointed to appraise the lands.

The ministerial lands were sold to various parties for cash and notes, for the total sum of $3,850. The school lands were disposed of in the same way for the sum of $2,550.

The ministerial lands were made up of lots, No. 224, No. 126, No. 203 and No. 51. The school lands were composed of lots number 99, 257, 168, and 4.

It was provided that these funds should not be productive until the annual interest of the former reached a total of $350, and the latter a sum equal to $250. For some time the work of the board of trustees was chiefly looking after the notes and sale of lands. It was also provided that when there was money in the treasurer's hands arising from this fund it could be hired by any one in town on conditton that he furnish two acceptable sureties. There was, it is stated, rarely a time when there was no one in town willing "to hire money of the town" as it was called. So well was the money of these two funds handled that in 1808 the treasurer's report showed that there had been no losses and the sum on hand in cash or securities to the amount of $4,978.99 for the ministerial fund, and $3,-376.72 for the school fund.

When the school fund became productive the trustees were confronted with the problem how to carry out the provision of the act calling for grammar school. The sum was inadequate for a strictly Grammar Grade, and it did not seem to be right to apply the revenue to the support of common schools. The town was desirous that the latter be done and it voted to secure the trustees from any loss which might occur from such action. For a term of years this method was followed.

After a time this method was changed so that the three largest schools in town were given the money, and required to furnish instruction in the higher branches. This plan was followed for a time but finally abandoned, and in 1828 it was voted that the fund be used to support a Grammar school for one year. Alden Blossom was chosen to carry the vote into effect. This plan was followed for some time. Twelve weeks of school was maintained usually in different districts so that all sections might fare alike. Later instead of a term of twelve weeks, the plan of maintaining two terms of six weeks each during the autumn, has been followed down to recent years. Thus the wise foresight of the framers of the act granting the town, has been productive of excellent results.

For some years the state's provision for a High School was made use of—the State assuming one-half the cost of the High Schools maintained up to the total sum of $250.

The year 1896 witnessed the most important educational event in the history of this town, when Mr. James Madison Leavitt of Brooklyn, New York, a native of Turner, established here the Leavitt Institute. This finely equipped institution was the magnificent gift of Mr. Leavitt. It was opened to the instruction of the youth in the spring of 1897, with Lauren M. Sanborn, A. B., as principal. The institute is located at Turner Centre amid the most healthful and beautiful surroundings, twelve miles distant from Auburn by stage and eight miles from Buckfield.

The building so generously given by Mr. Leavitt is one of the finest in the east. Its convenience, equipment, and beauty have won universal comment.

The Institute presents four courses of study, viz., College Preparatory, Latin-Scientific, English and Normal. It is well supplied with teaching talent and has justly come into a very prominent place among the secondary schools of Maine. The list of Principals from the first, with the dates of their connection with the school are as follows:

1896-'97—Lauren M. Sanborn, A. B.

1897-'02—Leland A. Ross, A. B.

1902-'03—Horatio P. Barker, A. B.

1903—Bertram E. Packard, A. B., the present efficient principal.

The other teachers in charge of the several departments are as follows: Lelan P. Knapp, A. B., Sub-Master; Lola Merriman, Preceptress; Myrtie B. Childs, Music, Elocution and Drawing; and Ethel Jenks, Principal of the Training School.

When Mr. James Madison Leavitt died in March, 1903, he left a liberal sum as an endowment for this school. This magnificent Institution coupled with the strenuous efforts of the town in previous years in behalf of education, has made for the town of Turner an excellent reputation in educational circles. All indications point toward a continuation of her loyal and successful support of the principles of education.

Church Account

The history of the progress of church work in the town of Turner is largely a history of the different denominations in town. We learn that the first denomination to locate here was the Congregationlist. The society was founded by the Rev. Charles Turner, who came from Duxborough, Mass., having been dismissed from the church at that place. We however understand that this act of dismissal was not one which carried great blame to the doors of Mr. Turner. The date of his coming to town was 1776. On this visit he preached in and also baptised two children of a Mr. Haskell. His next visit was in 1789 and was rather more successful than on his previous trip taking several in covenant relations, baptising several children and one adult. The only regular services held in this town for a good many years were led by Deacon Daniel Merrill, who came here from New Gloucester. During the five years following Mr. Turner's second visit the only preachers here were Revs. B. Brown of Westbrook and Nash of Gray. In 1874 Rev. John Strickland a native of Hadley, Mass., and a graduate of Yale, came to this place for regular labors; in August of this year a church of fifteen members was organized. Mr Strickland was called as pastor of the new church and was installed as such in September following. Six years later by the vote of the town he was dismissed. He did not however comply with this action and continued in his work, though his salary was very much limited. He remained until his case was taken up by an eclesiastical council and a vote of dismissal carried. He then closed his labors for the time. For several years no services were conducted and the place became what a previous writer termed it a spiritual wilderness. In 1802 complaint was made on account of the neglect of the town to provide religious services. Both Mr. Strickland and Mr. Turner were employed for a time. Later Mr. Turner was called by the town, but here a controversy began, and many events of local dissension followed. Finally the church was changed in name from the Presbeterian to the Congregational denomination. Soon after the church issued a call to the Rev. Amasa Smith as their pastor. This choice was ratified by the town and Mr. Smith was ordained by the church on May 23, 1804. However there were some in town who did not favor Mr. Smith and it was not long before a Universalist society was organized here.

This was the parting of the ways and the two societies organized themselves into two separate churches. The Universalists had fifty-four original members. However as we have seen in the educational account the public lands set apart for the support of the church and schools did not become productive for some time after this. The tax on the remaining members of the Congregational Society was heavy, on account of the forming of a new society, and the consequent loss of the support of those who joined the new movement.

In 1806 a meeting was held to consider the dismissal of Mr. Smith, and after much discussion it was found that the necessary number of votes to carry the dismissal had not been cast. But a few of the members conferred with the pastor and it was agreed his labors should cease sometime in the near future. He was later installed as pastor of the North Yarmouth Church.

For four years following the dismissal of Mr. Smith there was no pastor. In 1810 Rev. Allen Greeley began preaching here as a candidate for settlement. The society voted to settle him and he was ordained on October 24, 1810. Mr. Greeley was continued here as pastor until 1844. His work it is needless to say was productive of good results.

One of the most bitter contests in the history of the town was one over the problem who should receive the benefit of the ministerial fund which had become productive soon after Mr. Greeley's settlement. This contest was long and severe. The following is a brief statement of the main facts connected with it.

The society over which Mr. Greeley was pastor had been designated the one which should receive the benefit of the returns from the ministerial funds. In 1811 the trustees of that fund voted to pay him $70.00 and so continued till a controversy arose. The other societies in town began to feel that they should also share in this fund. The Baptist society was incorporain 1792 and the Universalist society was formed not long after. The two other societies made their claim for their share of the funds. The trustees denied their right to share in it. The next action was an attempt to dismiss Mr. Greeley and to establish Rev. George Bates of the Universalist society in his stead. Much confusion arose both in the meeting which voted on the matter and outside of it. Much hard feeling was caused and the two claimants carried their greviances to the courts of law.

But it was finally agreed to compromise the matter by dividing the proceeds of the fund between Mr.

Greeley and Mr. Bates, and also it was provided that each party to the suits then pending, should settle his own costs. This compromise lasted five years. When the time had expired, the matter was again open to public discussion and difficulties returned. This time an act was passed by the Legislature which provided means for the settlement of the matter. The provision was that the trustees should divide the funds between the several Protestant ministers in town, in proportion to the number of polls adhering or belonging to the societies of the said ministers, respectively. This seems to have settled the trouble permanently and no further strife is reported over the matter.

The later pastors of the Congregational Church of Turner have been the following: Rev, Henry Eddy from 1844 to 1846; Rev. W. L. James from 1846 to 1847; Rev. John Dodd from 1847 to 1854; Rev. Samuel Bowker from 1855 to 1860; Rev. S. C. Higgins from 1860 to 1863; Bev. Stacy Fowler from 1864 to 1866; Rev. B. F. Manwell from 1866 to 1867; Rev. F. W. Dickinson from 1868 to 1870; Rev. Alvin B. Jordan from 1871 to 1872; Rev. F. E. Emrich from 1872 to 1873; Rev. Uriah Small from 1873 to 1875; Rev. Edwin S. Tingley from 1876 to 1882; Rev. Richard H. McGown from 1882 to 1885; Rev. Albert N. Jones from 1886 to 1888; Rev. R. D. Osgood from 1888 to 1891; Rev. F. A. Sanborn from 1892 to 1895; Rev. A. S. Bole from 1895 to 1899; C. S. Wilder from September 1, 1899 to March 1, 1901.

A. C. Gilmore from April 14, 1901 to September 1, 1903. Sumner Sargent began his labors December 13, 1903. In 1894, while Rev. F. A. Sanborn was pastor, the parsonage was repaired, a new ell being built at an expense of $300. In 1898 a chapel was added to the church building, costing $1200.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

As we have already stated the Universalist church was organized in Turner at an early date. The petition of the members who were to form the society was dated at Turner on December 24, 1803, and was signed by fifty-two persons. There was considerable opposition on the part of the members of the first parish. They petitioned the General Court to protest against the organization of the society, claiming that there was not the real purpose of a church society, but an attempt to escape the burdens of taxation. The act of incorporation was unsatisfactory to the Universalists themselves. This was because it limited the time for receiving members to one year and made no provision for receiving them after that time. However it was accepted and later was recinded by vote of the Maine Legislature.

It is stated that the first pastor of this church or rather the first preacher was Rev. Thomas Barnes of Poland. He was not a settled preacher at this place, but from 1801 till his death in 1816 he was a preacher here frequently. In 1806 Rev. Sabastian Streeter, a native of New Hampshire, preached here and awakened a deep interest in his belief. During the time previous to 1824 the preachers were as follows Revs. William Frost, Thomas Barnes, Jabez Woodman, William Farewell, Mr. Smith, Mr. Sargeant, Benjamin Thorn and others. Rev. Sylvanus Cobb commenced about 1824 to preach to this society and remained with them two or three years.

Among the other preachers who have been identified with this society are the following: Rev. George Bates, Rev. W. R. French, Rev. H. C. Munson, Rev. G. M. D. Barnes, Rev. John Kimball, Rev. W. W. Smith and James Eastwood.

BAPTISTS

The Baptists of this town were organized on November 17, 1792. Until 1816 there were but few additions to this church. In 1816 there was a revival to quite an extent and many were taken into membership. Elder Ricker of Minot became their preacher at this time. The first regular pastor was Rev. Adam Wilson D. D. Others have been the following: John Hill, Charles Miller, William O. Grant, Josiah Houghton, Eliab Coy, Elder Curtis, Nathaniel Butler, C. Ayer, L. D. Hall, H. B. Marshall, Abner Morrill, Rev.

John Richardson, I. Record, A. A. Smith, S. A. Severance, C. T. Clark, N. G. French, and others.

METHODISTS

The Methodists in this town did not organize till a comparatively late date. The year 1879 witnessed the organization of a society of this denomination by Rev. S. T. Record, at Turner Village. He remained with the church for a term of three years. His successor was Rev. N. C. Clifford, who remained for one year. Rev J. Moulton came to this church in 1883 and remained three years. Rev. John P. Roberts came here in 1886 and remained one year. He was succeeded by Rev. M. C. Mabry, who was the pastor until 1891. His pastorate was very successful, adding many new members and maintaining an interest which was very encouraging. He was succeeded by Rev. A. B. Graffam. Among others have been C. H. B. Seliger and the present pastor, W. S. Jones.

MEETING HOUSES

The first meeting house erected in the town of Turner was built in 1783 on "Upper street". It was built by the following contractors who made their contract with the proprietors of the town: Samuel Blake, Henry Jones, John Keen, Nathan Niles, William Bedford, Joseph Leavitt, Benjamin Jones and Jabez Merrill.

These men were paid £78 for the work and the building was to have the following dimensions: not less than 35 feet square, 20 feet posts. Other specification were as follows: To board and clapboard the walls, board and shingle the roof, set twenty-four window frames, glaze six windows, and lay the lower floor.

The settlers became the owners of the church and until 1819 it was the only church building in town. On that date the Congregationalists built a church further west, which stood until 1836 when it was destroyed by fire. It was rebuilt on the site of the town meeting house. Not many years later this was sold and the one at the village was built.

The Universalist church was erected on Lower street in 1825. This house was taken down in 1848 and a new one put up at Turner Centre.

At Richmond's Corner the Universalists in 1841 put up a chapel, but as it was used by them only a portion of the time it was thrown open to any religious sect which might wish to use it the remainder of the time.

The Union church was built at North Turner and dedicated in 1877 free from debt.

Professional Men

PHYSICIANS

The first physician in town was Dr. Daniel Childs, who came from Woodstock, Connecticut, in 1781. He was a skillful physician and a prominent man in town affairs. Dr. Luther Cary came from Bridgewater, Massachusetts, in 1789. He was several times elected president of the Medical Society of Maine, and in 1805 was appointed Judge of the Court of Common Pleas for the county of Oxford, which then had been recently organized. Dr. Timothy Howe was born in Hillsborough, New Hampshire, in 1778. He came to Turner about 1804, and from here he removed to Brettun's Mills, Livermore, then returned to Turner, where he resided until his death in 1848. Dr. Philip Bradford was born at Turner Center, July 15, 1789. He was educated at Hebron Academy and Dartmouth College. He located and practiced in this town until his death, June 24, 1863. Dr. Henry D. Irish was born in Bucksport, in 1821, and came to Turner in 1847. He was a very successful physician and was the leading doctor in town at the time of his death in 1871. Dr. William H. Jewett was born at Kent's Hill, Readfield, about 1825. He settled at Turner and practiced there until his death in 1879, with the exception of a term of service as surgeon in the War of the Rebellion. Dr. Elbridge G. Edgecomb came from Livermore in 1814. He settled at Turner in 1865 or 1866. Dr. Richmond Bradford when a young man, opened an office at his father's, in this town, but removed to Auburn, where he practiced until the infirmities of age compelled him to relinquish his duties.

The next we shall mention is Dr. Roscoe Smith. He opened his office in Turner Village in 1871. He was a man very much devoted to his profession. Dr. H. L. Irish commenced practice in Turner in 1875. After graduating from a medical office in New York, he reopened the office of his father, Dr. H. D. Irish, where he practiced with great success. Dr. John T. Cushing was born in Turner, in 1831. He removed to Ohio, where he lived for about twenty years and returned to Turner in 1881. Among others have been O. A. Sprague, F. C. Watson and L. E. Sampson.

LAWYERS

Turner's first lawyer is said to have been Ezekiel Whitman who came in 1799. William K. Porter practised here sixteen years. He was a native of Bath. His death occured in 1834. Other lawyers have been the following: Charles Andrews, Timothy Ludden, Mandville T. Ludden, Barzilla Streeter and E. V. Stevens.

Post Offices and Mail Routes

We quote the following from Rev. Dr. French:

"The first county road through the town passed along Upper street, so called, and probably down by Mr. Barrill's, through the woods by the residence of Deacon Martin Bradford, where Alden Briggs now (1886) lives, over Dillingham Hill to North Auburn, thence over West Auburn Hill and Perkins Ridge to Minot Corner, known formerly as Groveneur's Corner through Poland and New Gloucester on to Portland. The road was extended north from Upper street as the needs of the settlers required. Inquiry makes it probable that this was the road traveled many years to and from Portland, and that this was substantially the route by which the first settlers reached the plantation when the road was a path through the woods, and spotted trees served as guide boards."

Personal

HON. EUGENE HALE

Hon. Eugene Hale, the present junior United States Senator from Maine, was a native of this town where he was born in the year 1836. Mr. Hale was the son of James Sullivan Hale and Betsey (Staples) Hale. He received his educational training in the Turner schools and at Hebron Academy. He entered the profession of the law, studying in the office of Howard & Strout of Portland. When he reached the age of twenty-one he opened an office in Orland Maine. He soon removed to Ellsworth where he entered into a partnership with Mr. Robinson, a well known lawyer and with a large practice. Mr. Robinson soon died and Mr. Hale succeeded to the business.

He was later elected County Attorney and held the position for several years. He next went to the Maine Legislature, and after serving several terms was chosen a member of Congress where he served ten years. In 1881 he was sent to the United States Senate and has held his position there ever since. He has by his steady persistence, his high order of ability, his exceptionally good estimate of human nature, and his unswerving loyalty to his duties, advanced himself to a position of great prominence and influence in the United States Government at Washington.

SOLON CHASE

Solon Chase was born in the town of Turner on January 14, 1822. He received his education in the common schools of this town and in Gorham Seminary. He was once admitted to the West Point Military school on an appointment of President Tyler, but was after a three weeks stay pronounced physically unsound and was dismissed. In Politics Mr. Chase was a whig prior to the war of the Rebellion. He joined forces with the Republicans during the war serving two terms in the Maine House with Blaine, Dingley and Frye. After the war he was appointed internal revenue collector by President Johnson, but like Johnson's other nominations Chase's was not confirmed. Soon after the war was closed the "Greenback Times" came on and in this movement it is needless to say that Solon Chase was deeply concerned. His "Them Steers" has become a term known wherever the American political journals are read. It suffices to say that when Mr. Weaver was nominated by the Greenbacks for President, Solon Chase stood next in the convention in the number of votes received. Mr. Chase published "Chase's Chronicle" at Chase's Mills for about four years. It was then removed to Portland and published about a year as "The Greenback Labor Chronicle." He next started "Chase's Inquirer" and published it about two years when it was removed to Auburn and suspended in about six months. The last paper which Mr. Chase published was entitled "Them Steers" which advocated the "Anti Fusion" idea, but the paper was discontinued in about a year.

Mr. Chase is now living at Chase's Mills on the farm where he was born, nearly 82 years of age, hale and hearty, and as original in his ideas and as intense in his interest in public affairs as ever.

Centennial Celebration

July 7, 1886, a large number celebrated the centennial of the incorporation of the town. The committee in charge was Hon. Rufus Prince, Major H. C. Haskell, Rackley D. Leavitt, Dr. John T. Cushing, Elias Keene and Henry Turner. The procession was a mile in length. Many representations of old-time life were shown, and large tents were erected to accommodate the multitude. The order of exercises in the great tent was: Centennial March, by Norway Band; prayer by Rev. E. Martin; singing by chorus of one hundred voices, Albert E. Bradford conductor; address of welcome by Dr. J. T. Cushing; historical address by Rev. W. R. French, D. D.; singing; poem by Mrs. Caroline W. D. Wilson of South Paris; music; short speeches by residents, former citizens and guests; (among these were Hon E. B. Washburn, Ex-Governor Merrill of Iowa, Dr. Pearl Martin of Medford, Mass., Clarence Hale, Esq., of Portland, Colnel F. M. Drew of Lewiston, ex-Governor Sidney Perham of Paris, Dr. Kendall Newhall of Rhode Island, Solon Chase, Daniel Lara of Auburn, Hon. Rufus Prince;) singing; music.

General Survey

TURNER GRANGE

Among the agricultural classes there is no surer sign today of future prosperity and a higher plane of usefulness than is seen in the effort to build up the Grange. This organization is a most helpful one. It is fast becoming the farmers' protection. No class is in need of organization to a greater degree, and no class can be more benefited by organization than the farmers. Once thoroughly organized they have a most rigid grasp on things in general.

In the State of Maine there is no more prosperous branch of the order than in Turner. This Grange is known as Turner Grange No. 23 P. of H., and had 560 members, January 1, 1904. Its charter members were: Wallace Cary, S. S. Merrill, Augustus Haskell, Alden Fuller, E. H. Haskell, W. L. Blossom, W. B. Bryant, Henry Turner, G. W. Blossom, B. F. Hodsdon, D. J.

Briggs, Hiram Bryant, L. P. Bradford, L. M. Beals, H. C. Haskell, W. C. Whitman, Roscoe Torry, S. F. Kezar, Sarah Fuller, Sybel P. Turner, Rose S. Blossom, Annie C. Briggs, Flora A. Bradford, Joe J. Haskell, Ada R. Whitman and Eunice Bryant.

FIRST OFFICERS OF TURNER GRANGE

Master, L. P. Bradford; Overseer, S. S. Merrill; Lecturer, Henry Turner; Steward, G. W. Blossom; Assistant, W. L. Blossom; Chaplain, D. J. Briggs; Treasurer, Hiram Bryant; Secretary, H. C. The Grange at East Hebron was organized January 14, 1889. It is known as East Hebron Grange, No. 300 P. of H. There were 30 charter members. The present membership is approximately 225. The first officers were, A. P. Brown, Master; F. E. Whiting, Lecturer; A. M. Fogg, Secretary.

The Masters to date have been: A. P. Brown, W. H. Allen, E. P. Ramsdell, A. M. Fogg, W. H. Berry, W. B. Ramsdell and E. Hayes.

TURNER CENTRE DAIRYING ASSOCIATION

The Turner Centre Dairying Association was incorporated in 1882, for the manufacture of butter, cheese and evaporated apples. The industry established by this company, is located in a rich valley at Turner Centre, surrounded by splendid hill and valley farms, conducted by intelligent, wide awake farmers. A cheese factory was located there early in the introduction of the associated system of dairying in Maine. This was successful, and the product had a great reputation. Later the creamery system was introduced and, still retaining the cheese factory, the basement was filled up, and Edwin L. Bradford began to make butter, February 4, 1884. As the excellence of the product became known, the best markets sought its goods. This attracted the attention of the farmers and private dairymen, who also turned their cream into the factory. In 1888 the manufacture of cheese was abandoned, the building remodelled and refitted into a first- class creamery, with all the facilities to carry on a large business. The business is done under the name Turner Centre Creamery. It has a warehouse on Main street, Lewiston, and sends a large amount of cream to Massachusetts cities.

94 COURT STREET AUBURN, MAINE

Census, 1903-4

The population of the town of Turner has been arranged herewith in families where that arrangement has been possible. In these families, in addition to the resident living members, the names of the non-resident members are included. It should be borne in mind that this plan does not include the names of all former residents of this town as the names of the non-residents appear only when one or both the parents are still living in the town. At the end of the Census will be found the names of non-residents with their present addresses, when such addresses have been given to us. The non-residents are indicated by the (*).

Following the names of the population is the occupation. To designate the occupations we have used the more common abbreviations and contractions. Some of these follow: Farmer—far; carpenter—car; railroad service—R R ser; student, a member of an advanced institution of learning—stu; pupil, a member of a lower grade of schools—pl; housework—ho; laborer—lab; physician and surgeon—phy & sur; clergyman—clerg; merchant—mer; teacher—tr; blacksmith—blk; clerk—cl; book-keeper—bk kpr; lawyer—law; mechanic—mech; engineer—eng; insurance—ins; maker—mkr; worker—w'kr; work—wk; shoe shop work—s s work.

This Census was taken during the winter of 1903-4 expressly for this work by Rev. B. V. Davis, Kent's Hill, Me.
